Staff Holiday Rules

Annual holidays

All employees are entitled to at least four weeks' paid holidays a year. Employees get their annual holiday entitlements on their first and subsequent anniversaries after starting work. Annual holidays can be taken at any time agreed upon between the employer and the employee. Employees must be given the opportunity to take at least two of the four weeks' holidays continuously, if they wish to do so.

Public National holidays

Employees are entitled to a paid day off on a public holiday if it would otherwise be a working day. These public holidays are separate from and additional to annual holidays.

Sick leave

For most employees, there is a minimum provision of five days' paid sick leave a year after the first six months of continuous employment and an additional five days' sick leave after each subsequent 12-month period. Sick leave can be used when an employee is sick or injured, or when the employee's spouse or partner or a person who depends on the employee for care (such as a child or elderly parent) is sick or injured. At any time when the employee does not have a sick leave entitlement (including during the first six months of employment), the employer and employee can agree to the employee anticipating the sick leave entitlement. In this case, any sick leave taken can be deducted from the next entitlement that arises.
