

A : Hi, I'm looking for a new apartment.

B : Do you have any requirements?

A : I want an apartment that is () a convenience store.

A : Can you help me put a white cloth () the table?

B : Of course.

A : Do you want to drive to Mexico this weekend?

B : Actually... I can't. I can't go () the borderline. My passport has expired and I haven't renewed it yet.

A : Help! A bee just flew in () the window.

B : It's probably been attracted by the flowers. Just ignore it.

A : I really love Mount Fuji. You can say it's the symbol of Japan.

B : How tall is Mount Fuji exactly?

A : It's 3,776 meters () sea level.

A : I'm reading a book about Chinese history and it is quite fascinating.
 B : Oh, what's it about?
 A : It's about Qin Shi Huang, who was the First Emperor of the Qin dynasty.
He ruled () China for 35 years.

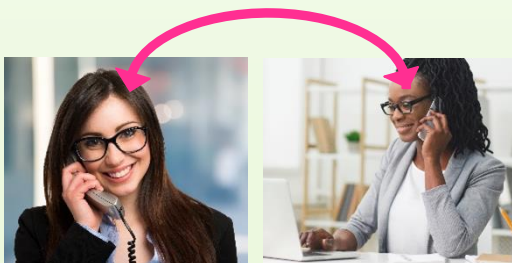

A : Excuse me, do you know where the parking area is?
 B : It's just () those trees.

A : Steward lost his wallet.
 Has anyone seen it?
 B : Actually, we have helped him search () the office and still couldn't find it.

A : I want to file a complaint. Robert from the Marketing Department just took a photo of me without my permission.
 B : Oh... This problem is () my rank. I am just an intern, you see. Let me ask my supervisor for you.

A : Did you arrange a meeting with the candidate for the manager position?
 B : Actually, I talked to her () the phone instead. You know, because of COVID, it's safer this way.

A : Did you hear? The city is going under lockdown at 10 tonight for 48 hours.

B : What?! Why so sudden?

A : It's all over the news. You can't stay out () 10 o'clock.

A : Welcome to ABC merchandising. I'm your interviewer Jenny. I want to explain our working schedule first. Unlike other companies, we work Monday () Sunday.

B : I'm sorry to interpret you, but does it mean we don't have weekends?

A : Congratulations! I heard that your daughter got into Tokyo University.

B : Oh, thank you. She is just being lucky.

A : Oh, don't be so humble. I heard that her score is far () everyone else's.

A : I just saw a cat jumping () a fence easily. I didn't know cats jump so high!

B : Yeah. I read about it before. It is said that an adult cat can jump five or six times its height.

A : Chef, around 10 customers who ordered grilled salmon all got stomachache. What should we do?

B : The situation is () our control. We have to call the ambulance and contact the owner immediately.

- A : Congratulations Tom! It's your 10th year in the company.
- B : Thank you! How time flies! I can't believe it's been 10 years.
- A : Well, there is a saying that time is like sand running () your fingers. No matter how hard you grasp, it still slips away.

- A : Ross, can I talk to you for a moment?
- B : Yes, Mr. Lee.
- A : You see, you went to the president to talk about your suggestion for the project.
I do appreciate your enthusiasm, but you can't go () me and talk to the president directly.

- A : I haven't seen Tom from accounting for quite a while. Where has he been?
- B : You didn't know? He lost his job () a scandal.

- A : Shawn, can you help me with something?
- B : What do you need?
- A : I need to access the files on the top shelf but it's () my reach.

- A : Have you finished reading the new employee training manual?
- B : I'm halfway () it.

There are historic remains () this bridge.

Cars and motorcycles drove () the bridge.

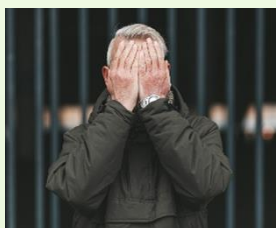

My house is just () the river.

Look! There's a castle () the tunnel.

It's () our original estimates.

Put your hands () your face.

The unemployment rate went () five percent.

I got this apartment () a very good real estate agent.

You won't believe she is () 70.

A helicopter is hovering () the mountain.

Put the bottle () the baby's reach.

There's a bumpy road () the woods.

Keep your face () water.

The baby spilled spaghetti
all () himself.

She got a salary ()
her imagination.

All () my life I've suffered from back pain.

It hurts so bad right ()
my right knee.

He's () 100 kilos now.
He's trying to lose some weight.

It's () me why she left me.

Go () a tunnel.

You are () being sad
over a silly breakup.

A plane flew () the skyscrapers.

Look () what you see.

You look like you've been () a lot.

() all, I would like to thank everyone who is here.

It's alright that you failed.
You can start it () !

There's nothing in the office () computers.

I can't hear you. The car's driving () a tunnel.